The term PEMF means „pulsed electromagnetic fields“ and describes in modern medicine the specific application of unique pulsed, electromagnetic frequencies and intensities for the health benefit of human

Recent PEMF Discovery

Early clinical studies on electromagnetic fields were conducted in the 1960s in Russia and Japan. Beginning in 1973 the beneficial effects of time-varying low energy magnetic fields were documented with increasing frequency in North America. In 1982, working from Columbia University School of Medicine Dr. Andrew Bassett published a series of 4 articles on the positive effects of pulsating electromagnetic fields for non-healing bone fractures in 3 well-known North American medical journals. In the decades to follow there has been an explosion in scientific research pertaining to pulsating electromagnetic fields. Today there are many thousands of research articles in scientific journals worldwide. Magnetic field therapy is considered safe and effective for a wide variety of health conditions.

Not all magnetic fields are the same

The latest insights gathered through scientific and medical research show that not every type of magnetic field is effective in promoting optimal health in living organisms. It is now known that pulsating oscillations that mimic the vibrations of the Earth's own magnetic field can benefit every cell of our body, as long as they have the correct intensity, information content and resonance characteristics. How? By recharging our current conducting cell membranes through precisely regulated electro-magnetic fields. When all the body's cells are simultaneously stimulated with natural, resonant electro magnetic vibrations, cell vitality increases, metabolism is enhanced and total body energy is improved. This is the power of intelligent

Benefits of Pulsed Magnetic Field Therapy

- Blood oxygenation and Micro-Circulation
- Endorphin Release and Pain Relief
- Better Sleep and Stress Reduction
- Stronger Bones and Bones Healing
- More Energy ATP
- Improved Immunity
- Nerve and Tissue Regeneration
- Improved Metabolism and detoxification

Improve wellbeing with pulsating electromagnetic fields

Magnetic resonance stimulation offers a broad spectrum of benefits to human health with essentially no adverse reactions and very few contraindications (pregnancy, epilepsy, electronic implants).

Consistent home use is strongly correlated with increased energy balance resulting from the integrated whole-body stimulation of the immune metabolic, neurological, endocrine, circulatory and musculoskeletal systems. The result is increased energy and vitality, improved sleep, less stress, reduced pain and overall a greater enjoyment in life.

For Your Business Life:

- to maximize your mental clarity, focus and productivity
- for efficient 8 - 24 minute work breaks, providing essential renewal
- in the midst of your projects requiring heavy concentration
- for healthy on-the-job stress management

For Professional and Amateur Sports:

- for pre-competition warm-up
- to reduce or eliminate lost training days due to illness
- for rapid post-exercise recovery after strenuous workouts

For Seniors:

- to improve mobility
- to increase energy, vitality and strength
- to provide metabolic support for bed-bound people

For Wellness and Anti-Aging:

- to improve circulation and immune system function
- to activate cellular metabolism and repair
- to aid relaxation and detoxification
- to provide optimal overall vitality

iMRS Prime Advantages

- Unified hardware platform with modular components and software license add-on options
- Extensive customizable add-on options including Far Infrared, PPG sensor with HRV feedback and Oximeter, application database, split operation, audio-visual brainwave entrainment, trial mode for medical research, and many first in the home-based PEMF system.
- Swiss design with Germany engineering, with more than 25 years of proven industry record and adoptions by home and health practitioners world-wide
- Extensive sales & support regional offices around the world 100% owned and operated by Swiss Bionic Solutions.

EXAGON [FIR] MAT

Recharge yourself with Exagon Full-body Mat., now with optional Far Infrared Hybrid Mat. Just 8 Minutes per session, twice a day can help keep your cellular in optimal condition. Exagon Mat comes standard with all iMRS Prime bundles. Exagon FIR Mat comes with Hybrid bundle.

EXAGON Pad

Exagon Pad comes standard with all Prime bundles. A Solid pillow sized pad, with 2 built in, non-insulated, solid copper coils, same amount of windings, square wave impulse, magnetic field strength max. 70 micro Tesla for a simple and effective local application.

EXAGON Spot

2 single segments connected with a flexible belt. 2 built in, non-insulated, solid copper coils, same amount of windings, square wave impulse, magnetic field strength max. 120 micro Tesla, Helmholtz-effect (=homogenous magnetic field) due to the opposite arrangement of the coils during the application. Fixing belt for an easy and effective, punctual application.

EXAGON Brain

Exagon Brain is an audio-visual brain wave entrainment system that can be also simultaneously used together with the magnetic resonance stimulation application (PEMF) provided by the iMRS Prime. This supports and optimizes the desired wellness effect for both mind & body. The Exagon Brain operation is integrated into the iMRS Prime App with can use together or as standalone with the PEMF session.

Fast Start Programs

First introduced in iMRSone Omnium1 system. Fast start program now is made available with all iMRS Prime configuration. It comes with 7 fast start programs.

iGuide

Database collection of close to 300 ailments and recommended application settings according to the applicators used.

Program Mode

You can pre-configure unlimited user profiles on preferred intensity, session time according to the time of day.

Trial Mode (Research)

A special mode where you can manually define your own frequency, intensity, duration, waveform, break interval for research purpose. This option is only available for qualified health professionals.

Split Mode

This allows the iMRS Prime controller to control two separate independent sessions with two different applicators at the same time.

Export Data

HRV and SPO2

HRV reading now can be stored and exported to 3rd party application for further analysis. The new software also supports oxygen level reading (SPO2).

Swiss Bionic Solutions is a globally organized company with Swiss origin, develop and distribute innovative products worldwide in the field of complementary and alternative health solutions. In recent years, SBS has specialized particularly in bionic technologies. Bionics is concerned with deciphering "inventions of active nature" and how to innovatively implement these inventions in modern technologies. Low-energy vibrations within the electromagnetic spectrum of the geomagnetic field and the ionosphere serve as a natural model for the technical implementation. The product range focuses on integrated wellness for in-home use.
